Orleans News PageNews and Views from this Hustling Village*Mrs. Alonzo Smith.

The body of Mrs. Alonzo Smith, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John Hennessey, and her sister, Miss Betty Badger, arrived Tuesday noon. Mrs. Smith was Carrie Badger of this place. She was born at Irasburg April 19, 1885 to Harrison A. and Jennie Croft Badger. When only a few years old her parents moved to a farm in Orleans and later into Orleans village where they have made their home since. Carrie went through the grades here and was a member of one of the first graduating classes from the high school. After her graduation she taught school between here and Barton. She was always a favorite here and made a host of friends everywhere for she was a sunny-dispositioned girl and always had a smile and a kind word. A few years ago Miss Badger went to Seattle and there was united in marriage to Alonzo Smith, a young man well known here. Mrs. Smith has been in ill health for a number of years and about a year ago they moved to Fresno, Cal., to a drier climate, but this was of no avail as her health failed continually.

About three weeks ago she was taken much worse and word was sent to her mother and sister, who started for Fresno immediately. They reached there April 12 and on April 14th she died, knowing her loved ones to the last. She leaves her mother, Mrs. John Hennessey and two sisters, Mrs. Richard Liddell of Athol, Mass., and Miss Betty Badger of St. Johnsbury, her father and three brothers being dead. The funeral services were conducted from her mother's home Wednesday afternoon, April 25th, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Altha Lumbra has returned from a month's vacation.

Get Five Recruits Here.

The patriotic rally held in the opera hall Monday evening was a big success, the hall being packed. Bulard's band was in attendance and furnished good music. Throughout all the speeches rang patriotism and the spirit that we must have war before we can have peace.

Five young men were secured here as recruits, two Bennetts, McGoff, LaRoe, and Powers of Lowell.

Acknowledges Red Cross Work.

The following letter has just been received in acknowledgment of the supplies for the Boston base hospital sent from the local branch of the Red Cross society some weeks ago:

Boston, Apr. 21, 1917.
The Red Cross supplies committee of the Boston Metropolitan chapter, acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the following articles from your workers: Two boxes with contents as per invoice.

"These articles are now stored with our base hospital supplies in the Old South church and make a most welcome addition."

"Many thanks for your interest."

"I am sorry to be so slow in acknowledging these articles. We were delighted to receive them, but have been so busy with our packing and sorting of the supplies received that letters of thanks have had to wait."

"Thank you all very much."

"Very sincerely yours,
Ellen T. Emerson,
Chairman Supplies Committee."

Mrs. E. M. Cleasby has returned from Brightlook hospital.

The Odd Girls met with Mrs. Cephas Dupont Monday evening.

There will be a baseball game between the grammar schools of Orleans and Barton at Barton Saturday afternoon.

Fred Wilkie has finished work in the Whipple, French Company store and will clerk for O. W. Locke in the near future.

Mrs. Daniel Hufnail and Dr. C. E. Buchanan of Felchville, were in town Sunday, to attend the funeral of their father.

There will be a dance for the benefit of the Red Cross Tuesday evening in the opera house. Sawyer's orchestra of four pieces will furnish good snappy music. There will be a like number of the old and new dances.

Congregational Church Notes.

Morning worship at 10:30. Session of Sunday school at 12. Evening service with music by vested choir at 7:15. Midweek prayer and Bible Study, Wednesday evening, at 7:30. The Women's Missionary society will meet in the church chapel, Tuesday afternoon, May 1st, at 2:30. The hostess for this meeting is Mrs. Jerre Marston, and the following program will be given. The general subject: "Chaos or Christianity in China. Which?" 1. Glimpses of Social Service in China today, Mrs. Doe. 2. How the way was opened, Miss Austin. 3. Life work of Bertha P. Reed, Mrs. French. 4. "Helpers of our Joy," Miss Edith Lothrop.

A large congregation last Sunday morning voted the following resolution with instructions that it be immediately transmitted to President Wilson, to Senators Page and Dillingham and Representatives Porter and Croener: "Mindful of the fact that such action would cut off present sources of revenue, but impelled by the conviction that such action is for the national welfare in this time of crisis, particularly for the good of our citizen soldiery, for group and individual efficiency in all our industries, for the production and conservation of our food supply, we, members of the congregation of the Congregational church in Orleans, Vermont, respectfully petition and urge the National Executive and the National Congress to give attention at the earliest convenience to a National Prohibition Law to be adopted as an emergency measure for the duration of the present war."

The greatest picture on war ever filmed, will be shown at the opera hall, Thursday evening. This picture is the "Battle Cry of Peace" and shows the possible horrors of a 1917 war, especially on an unprepared country.

The directors of the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company met to-day and voted to offer prizes for farm work of any kind, done by a boy or girl of the Orleans High and Graded School. The amount and number of prizes will depend upon quality of work done.

There has already been some damage done the park in that the young plants have been broken down and the bark torn from the trees. It is hoped that the parents will take an interest in this matter and see to it that the children leave the plants alone. There is a $100-fine for demolishing such things.

The social given by the Queen Esther was a success, a good number being there. There were a number of contests but the most amusing one was between Raymond Cole and Foster Kinney, who each had a hat and loads of trimming with which to trim in fifteen minutes. Raymond Cole won and really had quite a hat when he was through. The club realized about $4 when all expenses were paid.

There was a good attendance at the W. C. T. U. tea given by Mrs. M. L. Parsons. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. H. B. Smith; Vice President, Mrs. Ethel Dickens; Secretary, Mrs. R. A. Hamilton; Treasurer, Mrs. L. E. Spafford. O. G. Page, a Justice of the Peace, administered the Freeman's Oath to those present.

Edgar M. Buchanan, who died at his home in Tunbridge, on April 19th, was a man well known in Orleans and surrounding towns. During the early part of his life, he was in business here and at Brownington Center, after which he traveled for A. P. Tapley until shortly before his death. Mr. Buchanan died at the age of 59 years. He leaves two children: Mrs. Daniel Hufnail and Dr. C. E. Buchanan of Felchville, two grandchildren: Clifton Evans Blake and Daniel Buchanan Hufnail of Felchville, and two brothers: Hugh W. Buchanan of Tifton, Ga. Funeral services were conducted from the home of his brother, here, on Sunday.

Prayer service tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Sunday services: Sermons by the pastor at 10:30 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. Bible school at 12 m. It is hoped that all who are affiliated with the Methodist church here or elsewhere, will join us at the opening of the new year in an effort to make the church all that it should be in the community. It needs the cooperation of all in order to do this.

The Sunday night service will also be most effective when each of us responsible for its success do what we can. Be a worker.

The session of the Vermont Conference just closed, was a very pleasant one. Bishop Franklin Hamilton was heard in his public addresses by large audiences with enthusiastic pleasure. He was most brotherly endeavoring himself to the entire conference. Rev. R. F. Lowe, for the past six years, superintendent of St. Johnsbury District, goes to Rumford, Me. His removal was much regretted. Rev. William Shaw who succeeds to the superintendency of the district is one of our strongest men. The conference next year is to meet at St. Johnsbury.
